

The Richard H. Collins Award

Named for one of the commonwealth's trailblazing historians, the Collins Award is given annually to the author of the Register article judged to have made the most outstanding contribution to Kentucky history. A panel of scholars in the field makes the selection, and the winner is honored at the Kentucky Historical Society's Annual Meeting each November. The award carries a $1,000 prize.

The following scholars have received the Collins Award:

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1978—Lowell H. Harrison and
Michael A. Lofaro (tie) | 1992—A. Gwynn Henderson |
| 1979—Dale Royalty | 1993—Marion B. Lucas |
| 1980—George C. Wright | 1994—Ellen Eslinger |
| 1981—Lowell H. Harrison | 1995—Robert M. Ireland |
| 1982—James B. Murphy | 1996—Chad Berry |
| 1983—George W. Robinson | 1997—Harry Laver |
| 1984—William J. Marshall and
Frank F. Mathias (tie) | 1998—James C. Carper |
| 1985—Thomas D. Clark | 1999—Hugh Ridenour |
| 1986—William E. Ellis | 2000—Anne E. Marshall |
| 1987—Charles P. Roland | 2001—Berry Craig |
| 1988—John David Smith | 2002—Richard E. Holl and
Robert M. Ireland (tie) |
| 1989—John M. Glen | 2003—Melanie Beals Goan |
| 1990—Robert M. Ireland | 2004—Andrew Lee Feight and
Richard Taylor (tie) |
| 1991—Peter B. Knupfer | 2005—John David Smith |
| | 2006—Tracy E. K'Meyer |